PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Greetings and welcome to St. John's College.

The college, established for over 174 years now, continues to serve the nation by emancipating the dormant potential of the youth and by encouraging them towards overall excellence, drawing its inspiration from the great truth enunciated by Lord Jesus Christ, "The Truth shall make you free". This truth forms the motto of the college and has been its guiding principle, as we seek to awaken in our students a sense of intrinsic worth, based on God-given potential and a commitment to respect the dignity and uniqueness of each individual, amidst racial, cultural, linguistic and religious diversity. It has been our endeavor to offer an integrated and holistic education that focuses on intellectual, cultural, social, aesthetic and spiritual development of our students and to transform them into capable, compassionate and committed human beings.

The college is blessed with a well-qualified, talented and competent faculty to mentor students, to guide their academic experiences, build critical skills and cultivate their creative thinking with the aim of social transformation with justice for all. The college encourages students to avail facilities offered by the college for physical fitness through games, sports and from overall growth of their personalities for the development of their talent and leadership skills through participation in several extra-curricular activities periodically organized by the college. The college is well supported by a motivated and cooperative non-teaching staff.

I hope that students will make their stay enjoyable, memorable and meaningful using their potential to the fullest so that when they leave the portals of this college, they will engage in serving the wider community and building a strong and vibrant nation with humane values and democratic ethos.

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

St. John's College, Agra, was established in 1850 by the Church Missionary Society of England, through the efforts of the Agra C.M.S. Association which came into existence in 1840. The first principal of the College, The Rev. Thomas Valpy French, a distinguished fellow of University College, Oxford, was a man of great vision and missionary zeal. At its inception, the College formulated its own curriculum and conducted its own examinations. In 1861 five candidates appeared for the Matriculation Examination, three passed the examination and thus, paved the way for the beginning of the College Department proper, as they proceeded to study for the University Examinations. The University held a First Arts Examination and a final Degree examination for the B. A. Class. Mr. Damodar Das became the first graduate of the College in 1865. From 1862 to 1888 the College remained affiliated to Calcutta University. With the establishment of the Allahabad University in 1887, the college was affiliated to it till 1927. With the formation of Agra University in 1927, the erstwhile Principal of the College, Rev. A. W. Davies became its first Vice-Chancellor and since then the College has been affiliated to it.

Initially the classes were held in Katra Abdul Saleh (on the hospital road); in 1852 the classes moved to a new building, which was raised on designs prepared by Major Kittoe, consisting of a hall and eight classrooms. In 1868 a new building was added, consisting of a hall and four classrooms. Upto 1896 the accommodation sufficed for the classes. The college was under partial eclipse from 1874-90 and the B.A. Classes had to be closed because the Government had withdrawn the grants-in-aid to the college. From 1890-1906, the college maintained the B. A. Classes without financial assistance from the government. The government grants in aid were restored in 1906. In 1891 B.A./L.L.B. classes were started. In 1893 affiliation was sought for the M.A. course of Allahabad University. In 1893 classes in Telegraphy and Signalling were opened keeping in mind the employment opportunities in the Railways. Affiliation for B.Sc. was obtained in Physics and Chemistry in 1903 and for Biology in 1906.

From the last decade of the nineteenth century the college felt a need for the expansion of its existing infrastructure. The situation became so critical that in 1909, the college started two shifts. Since, no further extension was possible in the old premises, a new site was located and a new building was raised between the years 1911-1914 on the eastern side of the present M.G. Road. The general design of the building was planned by Sir Swinton Jacob "who had specialized on the adaptation of the Indo- Saracenic style of architecture to modern building requirement." The new building was formally inaugurated by the Viceroy and Governor- General Lord Hardinge in 1914. During the inter-war years, the College made remarkable progress. After the completion of the new building, other buildings were constructed on the Western side of the present M. G. road for the Science Block, Lloyd Hostel, Davies House and the Entomology department. In 1948 Mr. C. V. Mahajan became the first Indian principal of the College. In 1952 the College celebrated its centenary and a new Centenary Wing was added to the main building whose foundation stone was laid by Bharat Ratna Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, former President of India, and was inaugurated by Bharat Ratna Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, the first Prime Minister of India in 1959. Under the inspiring leadership of the next Principal, Padamshri P. T. Chandi, the college made remarkable progress in its overall development. A new Central Library was inaugurated in 1965 by Mrs. Vijay Laxmi Pandit. Dr. P. I. Itteyarah was the first student of the college to adorn the post of Principal of the College. In 1987 a Bio- Sciences Wing was constructed under grants from the University Grants Commission. In 1996 another block was added under the post-centenary grant from the U.G.C. The College was accorded with the status of 'College with Potential for Excellence' in the year 2004. During the academic session 2006-07, B.Ed. was started under self-financing scheme, while during the session 2014-15, B.B.A. was started, also under self-financing scheme.

Since the last two decades much impetus has been given to research and most of the departments have organized National and International Seminars. It is the endeavour of the management of the college and the staff to sustain the rich legacy of traditions and history and to look forward to a bright future. In Dec. 2016 the college was accorded A grade in the second cycle of accreditation by NAAC. During the outbreak of the Pandemic 2020, online classes and teaching were started. In 2021 B.C.A. has been started under self-financing scheme.
